Symphony, A Cappella Join For Final Presentation Tonight

The final concert in the current 1954-55 season will be presented tonight at 8:15 o'clock by the Symphony Orchestra, directed by W. Gibson Walters, and the A Cappella Choir, led by William Erlendson. (See picture of A Cappella Choir, page 2).

The program will open with Gabriel Faure's Requiem Mass, Op. 8, for chorus, orchestra and soprano and baritone soli. The performance will feature the A Cappella Choir, and, in solo roles, Clorinda DiLorenzo, soprano and Wesley Walton, baritone. Both are graduates of the SJS Music Department.

Along with his songs and chamber music, the Requiem Mass is generally conceded to be one of Faure's masterpieces, according to Music Department officials. The composition, set to the text of the Mass for the Dead, was first performed in 1888 in Church of the Madeleine in Paris.

Thomas Ryan, associate professor of music, will perform for the first time locally the Piano Concerto No. 3 by Bartok, the late contemporary composer.

Ryan, who will be accompanied by Conductor Walters and the Symphony Orchestra, is an ardent admirer and champion of the works of this modern Hungarian composer.

Gershwin's "An American in Paris" will be the concluding work. Written in 1928, the music follows a fairly literal story. An American tourist is sight-seeing in Paris and the opening music is but one of several "walking themes," interspersed with the honks of Paris taxis.

A trombone injects a music hall tune heard in passing and a solo violin suggests that an attractive young lady has caught the tourist's eye. A wave of homesickness is indicated by an American blues melody, but the vigorous conclusion proclaims that, while it is good to be home again, it is even better to be in Paris.

ROTC Recognition Honors 5 Cadets

Five Army ROTC Cadets will receive awards today at the annual awards presentation on the drill field at 11:30 a.m.

President John T. Wahlquist and Army ROTC detachment head John E. Rogers will present awards to the following senior cadets:

Samuel M. Yates, the Professor of Military Science and Tactics trophy awarded annually to the cadet who has demonstrated the highest qualities of leadership in the military science course; Charles D. Roy, the Professor of Military Science and Tactics trophy awarded annually to the cadet demonstrating the greatest improvement in military science during his senior year; Samuel M. Yates and Winston A. Dahl, commissions as second lieutenants in the Regular Army for being named Distinguished Military Graduates; Albert A. Suarez, a special Rifle Association of America trophy for outstanding pistol marksmanship.

All students are invited to witness the ceremonies.

Snow Cone Booth

"The junior class snow cone booth will be open in the Outer Quad from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow," announced Joanne Leise, snow cone chairman.

Bob Lindsey, class president, urged class members to support the project as the net proceeds goes toward balancing the class budget.

Wahlquist To Talk At I.R. Conference

A conference for foremen and supervisors will be held here tomorrow night under the sponsorship of the Institute of Industrial Relations, according to Dr. Edward P. Shaw, director of the institute and conference chairman. Pre-registration indicates that the event will be well-attended.

A welcome address by Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president, will open the affair in the Engineering Building Lecture Hall at 5 p.m. Following this, members of the college faculty will participate in a panel discussion of the conference theme, "Improving Job Interest."

After dinner in the Student Union Cafeteria from 7 to 8 p.m., Dr. Fred J. Soubert, University of California, will speak.

Spartan Daily To 'Recognize'

Two outstanding students and four faculty will be officially "recognized" in tomorrow's Spartan Daily. The six mystery figures will remain secret, even to themselves, until the Daily hits the stands at 10 a.m.

Also recognized will be the two freshmen class council members who have contributed the most to the class. Outstanding graduates also will be named by each department. The ten persons with the highest grade averages in the school during the past year also will be listed.

Outstanding participation in activities will put 51 more persons on the list, a much shorter number than in previous years.

"Students had to have two or more outstanding activities to be recognized this year," Hal Morrow, Recognition Committee chairman, said. "This way, recognition is a little more difficult, and means more to the person."

The actual selections of persons has been going on for over a month and a half.

Largest La Torre In SJS History Has Debut Today

By JERRI LEE HUNT

La Torre, 1955, the largest annual in SJS history, made its debut on campus this morning as more than 2600 yearbooks are being distributed now in the Inner Quad. Memories of the past year at SJS flashed through students' minds as they flipped through the 320-page publication.

Distribution of the yearbooks will continue tomorrow. Students must present their receipts at the distribution booths. A limited number of yearbooks still may be purchased in the Graduate Manager's Office for $6, according to Jim Cottrell, business manager.

"Sparta Speaks," 45 RPM record feature of this year's annual, highlights events such as the Stanford-SJS football game, CBA game plays, musical and dramatic presentations, Revelries, Greek Show, March Melodies and the burying of the quarter system at the Deadline Dinner.

The 1955 Annual, donned in a special processed cover of rust, black and tan with a Spartan head in the foreground, was dedicated this year to the "Spirit of Sparta."

Colorful art work in a background of deep orange separates the ten big sections featured in this year's publication. Sections on Administration, Graduates, Activities, Residences, Athletics and organizations are included.

The Activities Section, biggest in La Torre history, flashes back events such as Revelries, football games, dinners, receptions, Winter Formal, Homecoming, beach time and novice boxing.

Memories of those many moments of suspense at SJS sports events are packed into 45 pages of the largest La Torre Athletics' section.

Group pictures highlight the organization section where special emphasis is placed on group activities and projects of the school year.

Fraternities and Sororities receive their many activities as they glance through the 55 pages dedicated to their organizations in the residence section. Other SJS living groups also are pictured in this section.

A variety of pictures and colorfully written copy throughout the entire yearbook make it live up to its prediction of the "biggest and best yearbook ever."

Evaluation Post Open to Soph Male

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. is the final time for sophomores to submit applications for the position of male representative to the Activities Evaluation Committee. This position will last through the applicant's senior year.

Applications may be obtained in the ASB Office in the Student Union.

Applicants will be required to appear before the Student Council tomorrow and a choice will be made following these interviews.

"Although this new system of personal interview takes more time, it pays off because we now put the best qualified person into the open positions," Don Hubbard said.

Previously Student Council made the choices from written applications only.

Hamlet Continues Through Saturday

The Speech and Drama Department's production of "Hamlet" will continue 8:15 p.m. performances this week to expected full-house audiences in the new College Theater, according to Miss Helen Mineta, secretary.

The Shakespearean tragedy, which opened Friday, will run every night this week, closing on Saturday. A few tickets still may be obtained from 1-5 p.m. daily. SD-100 for week night performances, Miss Mineta said. Cost 1.50 cents for student admission, 75 cents, general.

Dr. Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama Department, is director of the play. Dr. James Clancy takes the part of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, while John Kerr portrays King Claudius; Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, Queen Gertrude; and Dr. Wesley Goddard, Polonius.

Sets were done by Harrison McCreath, assistant professor of speech, while Miss Bernice Prisk designed the costumes.

Five To Enter Oral Reading Contest Today

Five students will compete today at 3:30 p.m. in the Studio Theater of the Speech and Drama Building for the $25 Dorothy Kaucher Oral Reading Award, according to Mrs. Courtney Brooks, assistant professor of speech.

Participating in the program will be James Hutchins, who will read "God Speaks," by Charles Pequey; Gary Park, "Death of a Salesman," by Arthur Miller; Thomas Bonetti, "Beach Red," by Peter Bowman; James Morley, "Teahouse of the August Moon," by John Patrick; and Ariel Davis, Study on Parody, by various authors.

Dr. Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama Department, will present the award to the winner. Judges are Dr. Esther Shephard, professor of English; Dr. French Simpson, assistant professor of English; and Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English Department.

The students are from the classes of Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, professor of speech; Alden Smith, assistant professor of speech; Dr. Lawrence Mouat, professor of speech; and Mrs. Noreen Mitchell, assistant professor of speech.

Possible Production Speed-up Of Combat Planes, Says Wilson

WASHINGTON, June 6 (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson disclosed today that the Pentagon is considering a possible speedup in production of other combat planes besides the B-52 jet bomber.

Earlier the Defense Department asked the Senate for a 365,000,000 increase in the House-approved defense budget to finance increased production of the new B-52 intercontinental jet bomber.

REUTHER WINS WAGE FIGHT

DETROIT, June 6 (UP)—CIO United Auto Worker President Walter Reuther today won the "guaranteed semi-annual wage" for 140,500 Ford workers in a new three-year contract with Ford Motor Company.

The package, he said, was worth 20 cents hourly to the workers and established the principle of the union demand for a "guaranteed annual wage" even though it was only for 26 weeks instead of a year.

CORPORAL CHANGES MIND

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 6 (UP)—The wife of former Cpl. Otho G. Bell, one of 21 American prisoners of war who refused repatriation after the Korean truce, said today her husband wants to come home.

BROWNELL SAYS COURT SUIT

WASHINGTON, June 6 (UP)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., said today the government has no intention of settling out of court its antitrust suit against the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and an advertising group.

COURT CLEARS YALE PROF.

WASHINGTON, June 6, (UP)—The Supreme Court today cleared Yale professor John P. Peters of disloyalty charges and rebuked the government's old Loyalty Review Board for "an unwarranted assumption of power."

EditorialExpansion time . . . let's get on the ball

If you're gonna make a showing, you had better get agoing. This bit of advice is directed to all campus groups which could expand in size come fall.

There will be 3500 new students enrolling in September, most of whom have never had any connection with SJS in the past. Now is the time to prepare for this group. More than 1980 will be freshmen who will be eager to jump into college activities following the rah-rah indoctrination at Freshman Camp.

This is the group for which we must prepare. If these kids are disappointed by not being able to participate in clubs or committees, then they will lose interest and participate only when it's convenient.

There definitely has been too much of this lackadaisical attitude among the present students, and if some red-hot preparation isn't done NOW, the new students will follow in our footsteps. And that's bad.

As the total enrollment increases every group from the Math Club to Rally Committee must be prepared to expand.

Who knows? This might be the beginning of a strong independent group which could enter full-force into campus activities and get some representation of its own.

Choir, Symphony End Season

THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR, under the direction of William Erlendson, will be heard tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Concert Hall in its final performance of the current season. With the SJS Symphony Orchestra the group will open the program with Faure's Requiem Mass, Op. 8. (See story, Page 1.) —Music Department photo.

Original Composition Contest Concert To Be Held Thursday

Phi Mu Alpha and Mu Phi Alpha will present their annual original composition contest concert Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock in the Music Building Concert Hall.

This year's first prize winner is Nathan Koblick, who submitted a solo violin manuscript entitled "Hespid." Koblick, who has had considerable experience in musical performance and composition, will perform the work at the concert.

Second prize went to Jay Raney for his score for French horn, piano and string quartet. Performing the work Thursday will be Donald Homuth, cello; Ray Robinson, viola; Iris Mann and Craig Johnson, violins; Ron Ehlers, piano and Val Phillips, French horn.

Variations on the "Brahms Lullaby" theme won an honorable mention for Mrs. Mary Cline, who will play her own work.

Also performing are Bill Purdy, last year's second prize winner, who received an honorable mention in this year's contest for his trio for piano, violin and cello.

The Associated Students of SJS-C sponsored this year's contest and set aside a fund for awards to be given to the composers of the two most outstanding musical compositions submitted by contest officials. The prize winners will receive their awards at the concert.

Dr. Edward P. Shaw, associate professor of economics, was the featured guest speaker of the evening, Zimmerman stated.

Initiated were Henry Low, Leo Fancey, Russ Pfeifer, Lee Nordling, Fred Kemper, Ron Frank, Peter Behn, Bob Vazquez, Bill Blum, Ben Fernandez, Gilbert Villarreal, Jim Fenner, Tony Ferrier, Paul Swanson, Dick Ittner, Ed Batt and Bill Rabenstein.

Symphonic Group
To Give Concert
At Civic Friday

The San Jose Symphony Orchestra, directed by Sando Salgo, will present its annual Concert for Young People Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in the Civic Auditorium.

The program will open with Nicolai's Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor," followed by the first movement of the Concerto for Flute and Strings in D Major, Op. 10, by Vivaldi.

Mozart's Double Piano Concerto and "March Hongroise" from Berlioz's "Damnation of Faust" are also programmed.

An interesting novelty of the program will be "The Little Train of Chipiras" by the contemporary Brazilian, Villa-Lobos.

Soloists will be Kay Fiester, flutist and wife of Dr. Robert W. Fiester, director of the SJS-C Symphonic Band; Cheryl Beaulieu and Joan Goodwin, duo-pianists and Ralph Murray, tuba player with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. Narrator will be J. Wendell Johnson.

Pre-Med Lecture

Robert L. Dennis, M.D., will wind up the medical science lecture series tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Student Union, according to John Elbert Rafferty, pre-med club publicity chairman.

Dr. Dennis will recapitulate the eight lectures given during the two quarters.

Davy's Two 'Bars'

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 6 (UP)—The San Diego police blotter showed today that Davy Crockett tangled with two "bars" last night and came out second best in both cases.

Crockett, 41, an accountant, told police he had spent the evening visiting a bar. He was arrested in the front yard of his former wife by Officer Don Barr.

Greatest Show on Earth Pays
Roustabouts Well—$18 a Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—If you want to be a roustabout and travel with the "Greatest Show on Earth," you can sign on at any stop. The Ringling Brothers Barnum & Bailey people are short of help.

A roustabout doesn't have to do much rousting these days. There are power drivers that put the stakes for the big top into the ground and some more power to pull out the stakes and stack them on the flat cars.

These fellows get $18 a week, which isn't much. But they live kinda high on the hog. They get three squares a day. Sometimes, even, a steak for supper, with A-1 sauce on the side and French-fries, plus ice cream. The $18 is take-home pay.

"Trouble is," Press Agent Bev Kelley says, "we hire these guys at every stop, and when we leave town, we look around and they have gone back to the filling station and the little woman. Roustabouts aren't to be found any more."

"These rousties don't know how good they could have it," Frank Braden, another press agent, said. "Of course the star entertainers get a little more sugar, but a lot of them started out putting a sledge over a tent pole. The kids we get are really roustabouts. One roust and they are ready to hit back for the home barn. Of course, 18 onion skins a week ain't much, but with your keep it ain't bad."

'Segregation Is Freedom Denial'

By DICK COSTA

"Segregation is a definite denial of freedom, and as long as it exists, we can never have true democracy in this country."

These are the words of Claude N. Settles, associate professor of sociology, speaking to a "Daily" reporter in an interview yesterday.

When asked about the recent decision by the supreme court that all schools must make an effort toward non-segregation, and sufficient time will be allotted to them later, Settles said that the move is a wise one.

"A matter of this sort depends very definitely on the type of community," he added. Uneducated areas offer the most trouble, and they should be given more time than the more progressive communities.

He explained that there are two schools of thought on the ending of segregation. One is that segregation be immediately enforced. The other is that the transition be gradual.

The latter would mean that the two systems would be in operation at the same time. Segregation would continue in the upper grade levels, but the lower grades would be non-segregated. Thus as the lower grade students became upper grade students, the move would be complete.

Settles believes that four years should be more than sufficient for the ending of segregation to be completed.

He said that as much as possible, each community should decide for itself how long to take up to that limit.

"We could, if we had to, make them do it in a specified time," Settles added, "but is it the American way to force people into a line of action they don't want to comply with?"

He explained that the younger people of the South actually want to end segregation, but it's the old die-hards that are holding it back.

Council Talks Result in Plans

Faculty members have resolved that teachers who were employed without having night classes represented as a likely portion of the normal teaching program should be given the option of declining such assignments now.

The 1954-55 Faculty Council reasoned that extended day and evening classes should be added upon the basis of student demand for courses rather than upon an arbitrary mathematical ratio to existing departmental offerings.

Viewing the hardships which could result from a day-night teaching schedule, the group resolved that professors teaching on extended day programs should be entitled to compensating factors such as liberalization of the rule requiring them to be on campus five days a week, reasonable concentration of teaching hours and other considerations.

In other actions, the council agreed to approve regulations limiting class size and to urge faculty members to adhere closely to them. The policy of not opening new class sections until all existing sections are filled was adopted and the Faculty Council agreed to support spring quarter administrative policies controlling the shifting of classrooms.

The body disapproved the equation of class size with teaching success as a matter of principle.

An effective system of pre-registration, to be set up by the administration, was urged by the council members.

Faculty representatives encouraged the administration to provide, before registration, a more complete exchange among departments of information regarding the student demand for "service" courses.

Whenever the negroes do get into the schools they experience little difficulty from discrimination.

He said that some of the best work in ironing out problems has been done in the South and not the North, but the former has had so much farther to go that the progress is not always evident. For example, we seldom hear of the millions of negroes who have full right of the ballot in what were formerly slave states.

Settles added that he hopes and expects the end of segregation will also mean the end of one-party control in the South.

State To Acquire Last Parcel In SJS Land Purchase Plan

Acquisition of the last piece of property needed to complete the expansion of the San Jose State campus is being made on July 15 by the State of California. It was announced today by E. S. Thompson, college business manager.

The property is an apartment house at 327 E. San Carlos St. owned by James Felich. The college is planning to convert the Felich property into offices for faculty members and hopes to have it ready for their occupancy by Sept. 1.

The college began buying the property east of Seventh street in 1945 with an initial appropriation of $300,000. Later the property was purchased directly, parcel by parcel, by the State Division of Finance. Most of the residences that formerly were within the area have been sold at auction by the state and either moved or demolished. Several are still being used by the college for classrooms or offices.

Phi Kappa Phi Elects Officers For Next Year

Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholarship society, elected 11 members of the faculty or administrative staff to the chapter roles, recently.

Dr. John W. Aberle, Dr. Stanley C. Benz, Dr. George G. Bruntz, Dr. Alfred W. Einarsson, Dr. William E. Gould, Dr. Fred F. Harclerod, Dr. William R. Roger and Dr. Milburn D. Wright were the honored.

Faculty Women's Club Plans Dinner

Reservations still may be made for the Women's Faculty Club dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the social hall of Trinity Episcopal Church at Second and St. John streets. Reservations may be made in the Home Economics Department with Miss Katherine Young until 5 p.m. today.

The dinner is open to members of the club. Any member of the faculty is welcome to attend. Price of the dinner is $2.

Seniors Invite All To Bay Meadows

Tickets for the Senior Ball, open to the entire student body, are now available in the Graduate Manager's Office, according to James Jacobs, senior class co-adviser.

Bids, free to graduating seniors, cost $3 for non-seniors, he said. The dance, to be held Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Bay Meadows Turf Club, is formal with dark suits and dinner jackets permissible.

Jacobs emphasized that the dance is a student body affair sponsored by the Seniors. That is why, he said, the class hired an expensive popular band.

Jerry Gray and his 14-piece "Band of Today" will provide the music. According to Pat Spooner, Gray drew the largest crowd at a SJS dance when he played for the 1954 Wintermist dance. Gray, former arranger for the late Glenn Miller, is carrying on the Miller style of danceable music. Spooner said.

Tickets for other senior activities also are available at the Graduate Manager's Office. These tickets also are free to graduating seniors. Senior day tickets cost guests $3 per person.

Senior day will be held at Adobe Creek Lodge from noon until midnight June 14 and the Senior Banquet will be held at Exposition Hall of the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds at 7:15 p.m. June 16.

Ford Expects 250 At Superintendent Social Tomorrow

More than 250 persons are expected to attend the end-of-the-quarter social for secondary teacher superintendents tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Education Library.

Persons in the field and student teachers who soon will be receiving credentials will be honored at the social, according to Dr. Gervais W. Ford, professor of education.

Among those expected to be present are student teachers, college superintendents and those persons in the field who supervise student teaching, according to Dr. Ford.

Group To Talk Of Change-over

Teacher education plans for the semester system next fall will be explained at a meeting of the Secondary School Advancement Committee today in Room 49 at 3:15 p.m.

A discussion of observation methods and student teaching as proposed will be presented to public school superintendents who participate in the teacher training program at SJS, according to Dr. Gervais W. Ford, professor of education.

How programs will be affected by the switch to the semester system is also on the agenda, Dr. Ford revealed.

Sigma Nu Wins Reinstatement

Sigma Nu fraternity, known officially for the last four months as the "Whitefeet" group, has been reinstated officially at San Jose State College, according to Carl Shaver, publicity chairman for Sigma Nu.

The fraternity was "off-campus" for holding an activity without college authorization. During the period of exile, the group registered the highest fraternity scholastic average for the winter quarter.

Senior Student Wins Award

Lorna Mondora, senior student in the Home Economics Department and past president of the Home Economics Social Club, was presented with the Helen M. Mignon Award, given annually by Miss Mignon, an alumnus of Alpha Chi Omega.

Miss Mondora is a graduating dietetics major and has been accepted for internship at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Student Teachers

Housing information and student teacher assignments for the fall semester will be disclosed at a meeting of all K. P. and G. E. student teaching candidates Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

All students who plan to student teach either in the fall or spring semester should be there, according to Mrs. Grace Rowe Walkington, associate professor of education. "If you don't attend, you don't student teach," she warned.

Piano Concerts

Two piano concerts by Patrick and Doris Meierotto will be presented tomorrow in the Survey of Music Literature course at 11:30 a.m. in the Concert Hall, according to Erik Petersen, assistant professor of music.

The concert is open to the public and will include the Mother Goose Suite, Pavane of the Sleeping Beauty and The Enchanted Garden, all by Ravel, and a work of Debussy and two sonatas by Poulenc, Petersen said. Meierotto is an instructor in music at SJS.

SPARTAN DAILY 3

Psychology Convention Open to SJS Students

Bob Hocker, president of Psi Chi, psychology honor society, announced today that psychology students wishing to attend and participate in the American Psychological Assn. convention in San Francisco, should fill out application blanks by tomorrow.

The forms are available in the Psychology Office. Those who wish to apply after tomorrow's deadline, may make arrangements with Dr. Brant Clark, professor of psychology.

"It is understood that the participants can not make final commitments at this time, but an indication of willingness to help is most important. Participation will permit students to register and attend all functions open to regular APA members," Hocker commented.

Dr. Lucille Forer, national secretary of Psi Chi, has informed the San Jose chapter that she hopes to be able to rely on them for organization of the Psi Chi convention which will be held with the APA conclave.

Hocker also stated that transportation for the event will be arranged by the local group for those attending.

Student-Planned Dance To Be Given In Studio Theater

A student-originated dance fantasy, "Metropolitan Magic," will be presented by the Dance and Movement for Theater class tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in the Studio Theater of the Speech and Drama Department, according to a department announcement.

Gretchen Given and James Kason combined to form the dance, which students have been preparing all during the quarter. The event is open to the public.

'Hora Novissima' Recording Played

A recording of the Choral Ensemble's "Hora Novissima" performance given this quarter was played at 8:30 a.m. today in the Concert Hall and will be repeated at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, according to Gus Lease, assistant professor of music.

Choral Ensemble members are invited to hear the recording of the concert.

DU Tips Phi Sigs For Second Time

Wade Penrose scored on a fly out by Charley Kamm in the final inning yesterday to give Delta Upsilon a 6-5 victory over Phi Sigma Kappa and a berth in today's semi-finals of the intramural softball tournament playoffs.

DU made the semi-finals the hard way, having to beat Phi Sigma Kappa twice. Thursday, DU scored a 4-2 win, but the Phi Sigs protested the game and a replay was ordered.

Delta Upsilon's Dick Garcia and Phi Sigma Kappa's John Campbell both pitched fine games, each allowing only five hits, and errors by both sides decided the game.

DU had to come from behind all the way to grab the win. Trailing 2-1 in the third and 5-4 in the fourth, DU pushed the tying and winning runs across in the fifth and final inning.

Bill Gillaspay drew a walk after Steve Peiser had struck out to open the inning. Penrose then doubled to left center scoring Gillaspay, and went to third on an error in the outfield. Penrose scored the tie-breaker when Kamm flew out to short left field and Norm Pontil's peg to the plate was not in time.

The Phi Sigs appeared to have sewed up the game in the fourth inning, when they scored three times to go ahead 5-1. Ponti bunted safely and Lonnie Manning singled to put two men on. Campbell then hit safely and he, Ponti and Manning scored when left fielder John Wagner misplayed the ball.

Wagner made up for his miscue by getting the best hit of the game, a home run to deep left center in the DU fourth inning. Jim Marks then drew a pass, and he and Garcia scored after Garcia's single and a couple of Phi Sig errors to make the score 5-4.

In semi-final games today, Delta Upsilon will face Pi Kappa Alpha at 4 p.m. on the west diamond. The Cagney Cagers take on the Veterans Club at 5:15 o'clock on the west diamond. In the consolation bracket on the east diamond, the Spartan Oriocci plays The Fugits at 4 p.m., and Phi Sigma Kappa plays Theta Chi at 5:15 o'clock.

Cal Poly To Lift Taboo on Women

SAN LUIS OBISPO (UP)—California State Polytechnic College has lifted a 26-year-old ban against admitting women students.

College president Julian A. McPhee Friday said women holding teaching credentials would be admitted for studies in the summer term beginning June 27 and others by the fall quarter of 1956.

Football Team Could Be Best in Spartan History

The 1955 San Jose State football team should be as strong as any Spartan entry in history, but how good it will be is as much a puzzle to the coaching staff as to other observers. Coach Bob Bronzan repeated many times during spring practice that this squad has more men of equal ability than any other since he's been a Spartan coach.

An analysis of the Spartan squad shows at least a half dozen men of exceptional ability who have been proven under fire. Behind them, there are three or four at nearly every position who have battled on even terms throughout spring practice. The puzzle to the coaches is whether this level is the high caliber or merely average.

One thing is certain: the competition for places on the squad was spirited enough that the end of spring practice found 76 candidates still on the squad. Although no one is ever arbitrarily cut from the Spartan grid team, this is the largest squad in Spartan history.

PCL ATTENDANCE DOWN

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The Pacific Coast League disclosed yesterday that attendance in the first eight weeks of the season was 93,052 off the same period last year.

The father of Darrel Clement, San Jose State fullback, was an all-state basketball player on an Oklahoma state championship team.

Darrel Clement, San Jose State fullback, was the leading ground-gainer at San Lorenzo High School in his junior year.

Overall, the coaches believe the 1955 Spartan team will be stronger defensively and has the personnel to use a more versatile attack than was the 1954 outfit.

Bronzan is somewhat concerned about the depth at tackle, but this will not be a worry if there are no serious injuries to the first line performers. There is no single back to replace Roy Hiram, but Bronzan feels there will be enough depth in the backfield to compensate for the loss of Hiram's speed, gifted running and fine defensive play.

The Spartan coach was worried about depth at end, but veterans Clarence Wessman and Leon O'Neill were standouts in spring practice. Mel Powell, rugged transfer from Santa Rosa, Bob Duniavant, nifty end from Fullerton, and letterman Bob Arends are equipped to step into starting roles, with more depth provided by Lelan Stahl, Bakersfield transfer, and sophomores Russ Camilleri and Loren Kuester.

Jack Adams, two year Spartan veteran and two year Marine veteran, heads the tackle list with Al Severino, a 244-pound letterman slated to open at the other post. Tom Ryan, Fresno JC, Dick Olive, Bakersfield JC, letterman Bob Light and holdover Walt Ramsey provide depth.

Bronzan has nearly a dozen guards who can be called on for duty. Junior Jim Hughes, who some predict will be the best guard in Golden Raider history, and Jim Nakagawa, the latter shifted from tackle, are expected to be the starters, with Cliff Maas, East Los Angeles JC, letterman Eli Gardiner and Hank Sekoch, Tom Bass, San Bernardino JC, Don Maiwald, San Jose JC, holdover Tom Powers and Dan Shaughnessy, Santa Rosa JC, all about even.

John Perkins, at a fighting 171-pounds, and two year letterman Jerry Ruse are running neck and neck for the starting center spot with another letterman, Jim Hague, and Roland Logan from East Los Angeles JC behind them.

Tony Teresa, who with Perkins was on Hartnell's two unbeaten teams in 1952 and 1953, should be one of the nation's top split-T quarterbacks. Hobart Marvin showed great improvement during spring practice and will see considerable action here with sophomore Jim Johnson, Cal Poly transfer Ernie Dutra and Fullerton JC transfer Dick Larson behind them.

Bill Rahming and Stan Beasley, who formed the keystone combination on the Spartan baseball team which went into the NCAA playoffs, hold seniority rights at the first string halfback spots, but both will have to scramble to hold on.

The sensation of spring practice was Walt Ackerman, a power runner from San Mateo JC who could push into a starting role. Also a contender is two-year letterman Pat Hiram, who missed all spring practice because of an arm operation. Hiram, however, may be shifted to fullback in the fall. Battling behind him are Jamie Maher, a 201-pounder from Santa Monica JC, Jim Beadnell from Monterey and Jim Niles from Taft.

Spartan followers are crossing their fingers on the fate of Joe Ulm, the speedy and powerful fullback. Ulm netted 11 touchdowns in the first four games of 1953 and then was sidelined on a residence eligibility technicality. Last year, on the second play of the first game he suffered a broken collar bone which again sent him to the sidelines for the season.

Bronzan describes Ulm's spring practice play as "better than ever" and this should be outstanding. Behind Ulm are holdover Darrel Clement, sophomore Jim McCluskey and two JC transfers, Jim Butler, Menlo, and Chuck Longo, East Los Angeles.
